

ASVF Terms and Conditions

By applying to ASVF using the Gust platform, you are agreeing to the following terms and conditions:

1. All information that you have provided is true and accurate and that you will indemnify ASVF against any harm resulting from inaccuracies in your submission (as well as any follow-up information that you may provide).
2. ASVF staff will share your application information with its associates, including members of its Investment Committee, potential co-investment partners and other professionals, for the purposes of conducting due diligence on a potential investment. You agree that this is an acceptable use of the information.
3. ASVF is not responsible for any information becoming public. You should not supply ASVF with any information that you would not be comfortable disclosing in public.
4. ASVF attempts to evaluate all applications on an equal basis, and is unable to fund many applications. The decisions of the ASVF management are in part subjective but binding. You agree that you will not seek either legal or other recourse if your application is not accepted for funding.
